

Section 719.16 – R, Single Family Residential District

The Single-Family Residential District was established to accommodate single-family dwellings and accessory uses, while prohibiting business, commercial, industrial, or other uses of the land that would interfere with development within the district.